

CASS & LILA: AND MATT & LILA: (this is a love triangle)

There is a scene for Cass & Lila and one for Matt & Lila

Cass was married to Frankie Frame. She was the love of his life, but the show changed head writers and executive producers and they had Frankie stalked, raped, murdered and they found the body.

So now Cass needs a love in his life. He meets Lila.

Lila came to town to get money and love -- in that order. She found out that Matt was the most eligible young bachelor. He's rich, handsome and available. She seduces him. They have a baby, Jasmine. They marry. Then Lila meets Cass, Matt's family's attorney. Lila and Cass fall in love. Lila tells Matt and he agrees to a divorce. Lila and Cass are to be married when a new woman, Ann, comes to town.

Ann (who lived in a nearby town) read about Cass' loss in the paper and saw a picture of he and Frankie. Ann looks just like Frankie and is desperate for some security in her life. She goes after Cass.

Truth is: the show changed head writers and executive producer again and they wanted the actress back who played Frankie, so they cast her as Ann (a look alike for Frankie) and changed her hair, her eye color, etc.

Cass feels sorry for Ann and gives her a job in his office (which happens to be in his home) and Lila is furious. Lila, being cut from the same cloth as Ann, recognizes a plot here and demands that Cass get Ann out of his life if he wants to marry her (Lila). That's the end of the Cass/Lila scene.

Then Matt stops by Lila's and she seizes the opportunity to seduce him again. He almost falls for it, but at the top of the Matt/Lila scene he pushes her away and says "no". He's been there, done that (they have a baby, Jasmine) and he's not doing it again. He really does love Lila and is seriously tempted but he truly is a good guy and wants the best for both of them. Lila is stressed.
