

CASS & CHRISTY:

Cass (short for Casanova) is engaged to marry Frankie. He is a very successful attorney, has had a lot of relationships but Frankie is really the love of his life. She is not like any woman he's been with before. She is very "New Age" ... a vegan ... has crystals everywhere ... is deeply into Deepak Chopra. They are deeply in love.

Christy is Frankie's best friend forever and is to be the Maid of Honor. Christy lives out of town and has come to help Frankie prepare for the wedding. They just spent the entire day shopping for the right wedding dress.

Christy is in an unhappy marriage. She married an older man for his money. He is very ill now and there is not much intimacy between them any more. She is very jealous of Frankie's happiness and very attracted to Cass.

In this scene Frankie is "testing the waters" to see if Cass can be wooed away from Frankie. Or, is she testing Cass to see if he'll be faithful to her best friend? Clearly there is sexual tension between them but what does the future hold?
